

American Classic

Across

- 1 President, reportedly a faithful fellow... (6)
- 4 ...fellow (admirable Australian), last to play bagatelle (8)
- 10 Expert democrat with muscle (3)
- 11 Crucial contrivance with Conservative going round (11)
- 12 In a crescent in France, the one with a Kennedy or Roosevelt? (7)
- 13 Origin of hurling lies in extreme tickling (6)
- 15 I tire easily, absorbed in reversing road cleaner? Quite the reverse! (7)
- 17 White copper at key party (3,4)
- 18 Round five-amp cells (3)
- 19 Colourful Conservative wearing frames (7)
- 21 Sort of image found upside-down later in reformation (7)
- 23 Bullet idiot heard in Art of Noise samples? (6)
- 25 Swimmer from 'Red or Dead' perhaps, with deep voice (3,4)
- 29 Wife wearing tux before noon goes to French sea with small ships (11)
- 30 Decline English books (3)
- 31 Strangely biased about America, but free of wrong ideas (8)

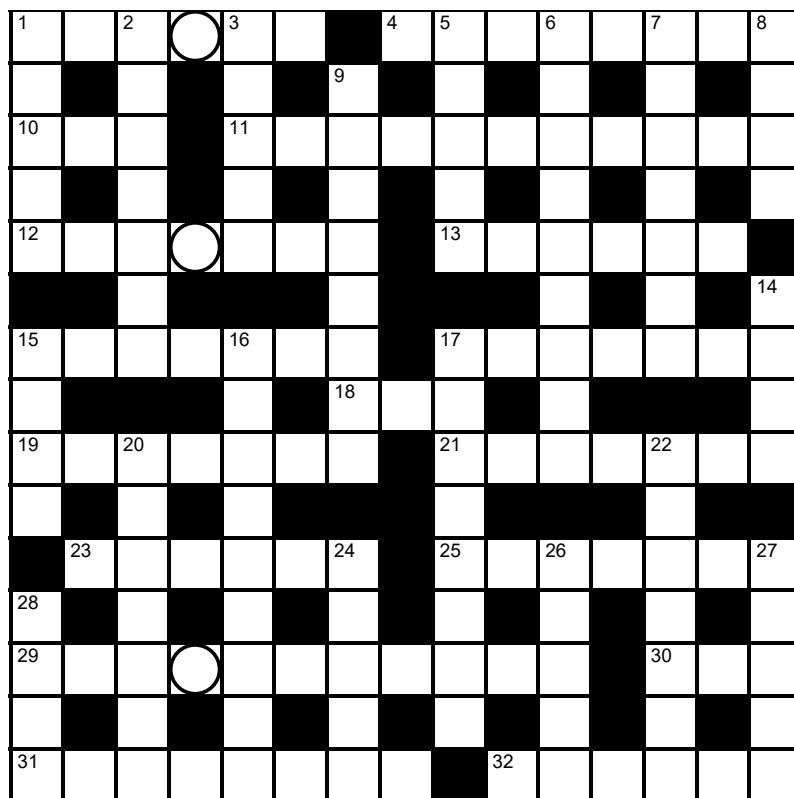

- 32 He loses weight more quickly (6)

Down

- 1 Boy with sex appeal rising ... rising and falling (5)
- 2 Proto-Batman villain resolving at first to be more refined (7)
- 3 A Caledonian cravat (5)
- 5 Get up or put up with application (5)
- 6 Setting exercise about, say, Honiton chaps (9)

A ▶

◀ B

- 7 Former London arts centre houses old books and weird objets d'art (7)
- 8 Toy that's had its ups and downs (2-2)
- 9 Field taxmen working to support Greek papers (8)
- 14 They run flights between Basel and Algiers (2,2)
- 15 Little Richard's dead? That's repulsive! (4)
- 16 Caper planned with help from within beds? I join up (6,3)
- 17 Lovingly stroked vehicle, being Dutch (8)

- 20 Animals scaled Asia – gnu, perhaps (7)
- 22 Turkey and the Balkans, short of a best estimate (7)
- 24 They quietly perform miracles in modern English setting – leading characters? (5)
- 26 Lost in deep water (2,3)
- 27 Very British queen's unamused (5)
- 28 Oustandling lines read out (4)